

Virginia Association of Assessing Officers Historic Residential Design- Houses of Newport News and James City County
November 15, 2016 / 9am-5 pm

This session was a tour of three historic residential properties, as well as one historic commercial property. Lee Hall Mansion and Museum in Newport News, The Matthew Jones House and museum on Ft. Eustis Military Base, Powhatan Plantation in James City County, as well as the historic Boxwood Inn, Newport News. Information included knowledge and professional insights from historians on site as well as a perspectives regarding historical/special use properties. The program included in-depth interior guided tours and guided exterior grounds tours. Attendees received the official National Register nominations of each property.

<http://www.leehall.org/history.php>

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Matthew_Jones_House

<https://www.nps.gov/articles/powhatan.htm>

<https://www.facebook.com/The-Boxwood-Inn-226503401685/>

Instructors: Michael J. Moore- Lee Hall Mansion, Boxwood Inn –Susan Duggan, Matthew Jones House- Army Archeologist, Powhatan-Plantation – Brian Gordineer, AAS

There is no graded exam. 8 hours CE